Drydock for Honolulu.

S. Lyle is now on the mainland looking over some of the dry docks to be found there, in order to see what would be the best style for Honolulu, for the Inter-Island S. N. Co. has decided to have a drydock that will be capable of docking the biggest of its fleet, as well some of the other boats that come here.

The proposal is to get a dock capable of taking a vessel of about four thousand tons net, for it is felt that the opening of the Panama Canal will mean a big increase in tonnage at Honolulu and that some better docking facilities will be absolutely essential. So far nothing definite has been heard from Mr. Lyle beyond the fact that he has looked over an excellent dock at Long Beach, Cal., that would be suitable for Honolulu. He has gone on to New York. In all probability some provision will be made for the enlargement of the dock should the amount of patronage accorded it, warrant such a step.

Zealandia Coming Tuesday.

Theo. Davies & Co., have received a message from the Suva agents of the Canadian-Australian line stating that the Zealandia left Suva on Tuesday morning en route to Vancouver, via Honolulu and Victoria. The message added that there is plenty of room in her. So far W. Buchanan has only booked about fifteen passengers for the Zealandia for Vancouver.

be able to get mattresses, and the earliest buyer gets the most favored location and the softest bed.

The demand for berths is without parallel in the history of excursions under the direct management of the Inter-Island company. Presumably those in the past were so satisfactory that they have become a popular diversion. If one has to go as far as Hilo and return on a mattress, if the journey's end is a living, active crater, the largest in the world in activity, he will feel himself well paid for the absence of a berth because the time will pass quickly and he will not mind any inconvenience, if inconvenience there be in sleeping on a mattress. Get to the office of the company before it is too late and get what you can; it will pay.
